LIFELINE COACHING & EDUCATION, INC.

Your Direct Sales Resource Center

Our Mission..

To build long-lasting relationships with corporations, leaders and representatives by supporting them in achieving their business and life intentions through awareness, education and action.

Lifeline Believes

Retention is vital to a company's stability. Curriculums and services that enhance the representative's life and business create longevity.

Leaders are a company's most valuable resource. Companies must listen to their leaders and understand their various roles so they can make decisions that support their well being.

Guests and hosts ultimately determine your bottom line. Their experience must be extraordinary!

Duplication fuels company growth. When a company offers educational products and curriculums that increase clarity and confidence, their representatives naturally share their business opportunity.

Corporations and leaders must have clear systems that are easily communicated and duplicable.

Do your leaders know what they desire in their lives and businesses? Are they consistently reaching their personal and business goals? Do they have the education to ensure their success?

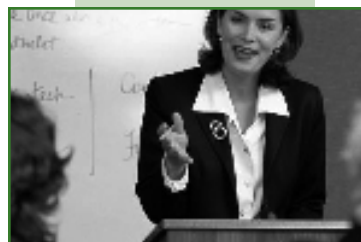

We coach and educate leaders on how to build multi-million dollar organizations while maintaining balance in their personal life.

When I began coaching, I was a relatively new Director seeking help with leadership skills, team development, consistent personal business and balance. My team and I have greatly benefited using powerful systems for Partnering with Your Hostess, Mastering the Art of Sharing Your Business Opportunity, and Mentoring. Through education and implementation of those systems I have added 19 personal recruits to my team and overall 72 new consultants to our unit! My personal business is flourishing using Lifeline's systems. I have realized several personal goals including part-time status at my day job, earning my first ever trip from BeautiControl, on-stage recognition for top seller, and earning my Red Mustang Convertible!

STEVEN QUINN WILTSHIRE

“Most representatives step into the community of direct sales ‘Clueless’ as to the endless opportunities that will support them in creating a life they love. Eventually they discover the opportunities, but often lack the knowledge to make it happen.” Steve is passionate about influencing change among the majority instead of the minority. Simply said, Steve’s focus is to evoke their “Why” and show his audience how to make it happen!

Steve is a Professional Life Coach, passionate Success Trainer and accomplished Author. Steve’s famous curriculum, “Love your Life in Direct Sales” has been conducted in numerous cities throughout the nation. He held his first party at the age of 17, and within 20 years, held over 5000 parties, personally sponsored 650 representatives, and led a top organization in his company.

Our Success Trainers have successfully supported several Direct Sales Corporations and leaders through our Premiere Corporate Program, Conventions, On-Site Seminars, Tele-Seminars and Coaching relationships.
